GERMANS AND POLES CLASH IN UPPER SILESIA

Forgeries, Says Beauvais DECLARES LETTERS WORK OF ENEMY; PROMISES SURPRISE

CONFEREES AGREE UPON
IMMIGRATION MEASURE.
Bill Limiting Admissibles Probably Will Pass Both Houses and be in President's Hands Next Week.

MONTEAL, May 11.—Aroused by the publication of the "Honey" letters he is charged with having written to Mrs. Stittman, wife of the ex-president of the National City Bank, K. Beauvais said today that when he appeared in court he would prove the letters were forgeries and the test was "bought." He also promises numerous "surprises."

Beauvais said he kept carbon copies of the letters he wrote to Mrs. Stittman during his employment by her at the Grand Ance camp. He said the published letters were rewritten by the alleged forger, the latter in some cases making clever use of the contents of the originals, distorting it to suit his purpose. The signature "Fred" was copied from one of his checks, Beauvais said.

CAN SPEAK CORRECTLY.
"But the forger did not take into consideration my inability to speak and write English correctly and therefore his seemingly clever use of the original letters and knowledge obtained from my letters must appear very clumsy work to anyone who knows me," Beauvais said.

Mrs. Stittman was known to be devoted to poetry, and frequently wrote verse herself. Often, Beauvais said, she wrote asking the meaning of an Indian phrase and its adaptability to the theme she had in mind.

"In my infrequent letters I would explain what I meant," Beauvais said. "The Indian word 'Akwes' appears in the letters. It means 'heart of a flower,' in Iroquois, and it was employed by my father in his letters to Mrs. Stittman. My father is a good man and surely the forger was wrong in his use of the expression."

ACCUSES FRENCH CANADIAN.
Beauvais then named a French Canadian at Grand Ance as a forger. "This man and I have been bitter enemies for years," he said. "He forged the letters and sent them to Mrs. Stittman. He has been lying, that is how they tell it on the hands of the forger. Beauvais said that he had been the pupil of Dr. Hugh Russell, a lay osteopath, for four years. Dr. Russell has an estate near Montreal. Beauvais said he had been in contact with Russell since the latter's osteopathy," he explained, "but the course isn't finished. When it is finished, I will be a doctor."

STRIKERS' CLAIMS FALSE.
New York Coastwise Vessels on Schedule;
Riot at Los Angeles Harbor.

NEW YORK, May 11.—Denying statements by marine union representatives that coastwise vessels had been reduced 50 per cent in the harbor, Clyde and Southern Pacific companies today announced that their vessels had continued nearly normal since May 1. Sellings have been held up by a few hours, the companies asserted.

Clearances today at the United States custom house showed the names of eight American ships for foreign and coast ports. B. L. Todd, business manager of local union No. 89 of the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association, said coast lines were doing better than foreign lines. However, he said, it was expected when the strike began that it would take about three weeks to tie up coastwise traffic.

MATSON LINER SAILS.
SAN FRANCISCO, May 11.—The Matson liner Wilhelm sailed today for Honolulu, the first trans-Pacific vessel to leave here under the new scale since the beginning of the marine workers' strike. She had a nonunion crew.

San Francisco, May 11.—The International Seamen's Union, declared today that it would prove to Congress, if granted a hearing, that the stand taken by the Shipping Board and the American ship owners in the strike was a deliberate and malicious attempt to starve the seamen out of business.

INSURGENTS, ALARMED, THREATEN TO DESTROY MINES; GUNS CAPTURED

BERLIN, May 11.—By numerous reports all over Upper Silesia indications are that the first shots of the German civilian counter-offensive against the Polish insurgents have been fired at the Korfanty line. Crossing the Oder River after a rifle and artillery barrage, the Germans defeated the Poles in the Cosel district. The Poles, alarmed and fearing massacres, have threatened to blow up the mines.

HEAVY ARTILLERY USED.
OPPEL, May 11.—Despite a reported armistice agreement, fighting between the Poles and Germans in Upper Silesia is continuing in France places—at Rosenberg, Cosel and Hatibor.

Heavy artillery has been brought into play, the Poles using captured Italian artillery and guns obtained from the French, and the Germans using two batteries of Italian guns for defensive use and which the French forbade the Germans to employ.

In an engagement near Ratibor 4000 Germans with rifles defeated 7000 Poles armed with machine guns, thus freeing the city from siege by the Poles, who almost surrounded it. The Germans claim to have suffered no losses, while seven Poles were killed and seven machine guns captured.

Despite Korfanty's statement that an agreement with the Allies had been reached, the latter know nothing about it. The British and Italians deny it categorically. French officials say that negotiations are under way.

While coming from Beuthen the correspondent said that the German wagon transports coming into the area, occupied by the insurgents.

BUENOS AIRES
SHIP DISPUTE
NOW SETTLED

Agreement Reached in Martha Washington Case.

BUENOS AIRES, May 11.—The controversy which arose as a result of the boycott of the United States Shipping Board steamer Martha Washington by the local union port workers, reached a settlement today which is declared to be acceptable to both the United States and Argentina.

The Martha Washington has lain in port here with her American cargo for more than forty days owing to refusal of the unionists to unload her or permit nonunionists to do so.

The six divisions which are now massed in the Dusseldorf region will remain there temporarily, but they will be drawn back after Germany pays the first $1,000,000 gold marks, when Dusseldorf will be evacuated and the French will withdraw to the Rhine, as the Versailles Treaty provides.

GERMANY ACCEPTS.
LONDON, May 11.—Germany's unconditional acceptance of the Entente's ultimatum was announced today.

GIANT BATTLESHIP

BERGDOLL GUARD HAZY.

Guileless Sergeant Nearly Weeps Over Perfidy of Human Nature.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—A guileless Army sergeant, John O'Hare, twenty-three years in the service, faced the House investigating committee today and told how he had been hoodwinked into letting Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, the millionaire draft slacker, slip from his grasp and escape into Germany. Sgt. O'Hare and a fellow-soldier, Sgt. York, were detailed to guard Bergdoll when the slacker, under authority of the War Department, set out from Fort Jay, N. Y., to locate the $100,000 pot of gold in the mountains near Hagerstown, Md.

The sergeant had only a hazy idea of his destination when the party left Fort Jay. He remembered something about talk of going to Hagerstown to get some money from a bank clerk named Philadelphia, but he never heard of the pot of gold until after Bergdoll escaped, he said.

WHAT HE THOUGHT.
At first he thought he was taking Bergdoll to Philadelphia to attend the trial of his mother, Mrs. Emma C. Bergdoll. After he reached Philadelphia he got the impression that the party would go to Washington to reopen Bergdoll's case. He permitted himself to be guided entirely by the indications of the late Clarence Gibbons, a friend of Bergdoll's, who was preaching from the south, due to mountain barriers on the north.

Plane Lost by Lieut. Pearson
is Recovered.

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) May 11.—The airplane lost by Lieut. Alexander Pearson in Mexico last February was landed in El Paso, Tex., Tuesday, according to word received at headquarters today. An expedition of cavalrymen entered Mexico from the Rio Grande and reached the town where the ship landed, and the men asked for a wage increase of 10 per cent, while the manufacturer sought a reduction of 10 per cent.

LIST OF MILLS.
Union Bag and Paper Company, Hudson Falls, Chubb-Parker, Mich., and Kaukauna, Wis.; St. Maurice Paper Company, Ltd., Three Rivers, Que.; Anglo-Newfoundland Company, Grand Falls, Newfoundland; Abitibi, Ltd., Iroquois Falls, Ont.; Spanish River Pulp and Paper Mills, Ltd., Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.; Espanola, Ontario, and Sturgeon Falls, Ont.; St. Regis Paper Company, DeFeret, N. Y.; Hanna Paper Company, Norwood, Norfolk, and Raymondville, N. Y.

The unions, the labor bureau stated, were keeping sufficient men at the plants to furnish fire protection and guard the property.

The bureau stated the following concerns as having signed agreements with the unions:

MILLS WHICH RIGGED.
Degraese Paper Company, Finch, Ont.; St. Croix Paper Company, Pelapout, Pulp and Paper Company, Great Northern Paper Company, Fitzgerald Paper Company, Consolidated Pulp and Paper Company, and the Cushman Paper Company. These plants resumed operations under the new agreements several days ago.

The men asked for a wage increase of 10 per cent, while the manufacturer sought a reduction of 10 per cent.

Complete closing of the plant would accentuate the unemployment situation notably and swell appreciably the total of unemployed men, women, boys and girls on the register of labor exchanges, which at the end of April, totaled 1,665,390 with the number working on short time totaling 1,077,000. These figures are exclusive of the 1,200,000 idle miners.

The iron number working on short time already is 1,077,000. These figures are exclusive of the 1,200,000 idle miners.

EFFICIENCY IS NATION'S NEED

Hard Work is A Secretary I.

Prosperity Drive is won if People Go On.

Living Costs to Come Down; Retailers Scored.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
WASHINGTON, May 11.—Herbert Hoover said today that he is convinced that America has turned the corner in its fight for prosperity and that we are now on the upgrade.

Because of Mr. Hoover's knowledge of European conditions, as well as the touch with American business which his position affords him, Hoover is probably as well, if not better, qualified than any other man in America in or out of office to discuss present conditions and future possibilities.

"It would be foolish not to acknowledge frankly," said Mr. Hoover, "that we are in the midst of great economic difficulties. But it is infinitely more foolish for anyone to think we will not grow out of them."

World Situation.
"In some ways the situation is more difficult than that following the Civil War, because today our economic machinery is more intricate and less easy to adjust. Also we are dealing with a world situation that is not a domestic situation alone."

"Great as our difficulties have been, and are, we have much upon which to congratulate ourselves. For the first time in our history we have passed safely through a monetary crisis without monetary panic. For this we may thank the Federal reserve system, which made this possible."

"Although we seem to have turned the corner, there are many readjustments to complete. Part of the bitterness of the situation arises from the inequalities in the progress of these readjustments in different walks of life and different branches of industry."

Time and Patience.
"Much of this readjustment can be accomplished only with time and patience. Economies of hard times produce savings and greater endeavor. Shrinkage in values yields more free capital. These savings in time fertilize the soil for upward progress."

"There are many impediments and everyone will set a different value and importance upon each of them. Among those daily enumerated are badly adjusted railway rates, excessive and badly adjusted taxes, insufficient tariff, high wages, high profits, high interest, restriction on effort by labor and a dozen others, while our domestic recuperation is easily interlocked with the recovery in Europe."

"It is necessary that we approach a party of levels in profits, prices and wages in different industries. Some groups are able to put up stronger resistance to reduction of economic levels than others."

"For instance, this resistance against lower levels in the services and commodities that the farmer must buy in the face of his very much lower returns in digging a ravine of unemployment for the other industries."

Give and Take.
"No greater lesson can be brought home to our people than that we must not only get but give gold prodigal in service."

"No particular economic fraction of our population can long continue securing over-advantage without disaster to itself and the community."

"Our whole economic and moral problems, indeed, our safety, our satisfaction and our future are balanced upon our practice of this

SENATE PASSES TARIFF BILL

Emergency Measure Victory for President.

Seven Democrats Help Protect Home Industries.

Act Includes Same Provisions
Wilson Vetoes.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
(Exclusive Dispatch.)

WASHINGTON, May 11.—With the Republican organization concentrating its power to function effectively, the emergency tariff bill, despite its unpopularity, was passed by the Senate today as an administration measure by a vote of 68 to 28.

Supporting the bill on the final roll call were fifty-six Republicans and seven Democrats: Broussard and Hiram of Louisiana, Sheppard of Texas, Jones of New Mexico, Myers of Montana, Pittman of Nevada and Kendrick of Wyoming. The opposition consisted of a lone Republican—Moses of New Hampshire—and twenty-seven Democrats.

Senator Penrose, chairman of the Finance Committee, gave warning of the advent of the steam roller several days ago when he announced to the Senate that all amendments not approved by the committee would be defeated by the majority. The solidarity of the Republicans on this measure is deemed prophetic of harmony in putting through the permanent tariff bill in the next four or five months.

MOSES LOSES FIGHT.
Senator Moses lost his fight against the provision continuing the War Trade Board control of dye imports, the motion to strike it out falling by a vote of 25 yeas to 43 nays. The only Republicans supporting Moses were Smoot, Keyes, Kenyon, Borah and La Follette.

Senator King, a Democrat, vigorously assailed the "infamous dye monopoly" which, they agreed would be perpetuated by the provision of the bill.

"I cannot do otherwise than express my keen disappointment at the action of the Senate in giving support to this infamous monopoly, which has got the American dye industry by the throat," said Senator King. "The Senator from Pennsylvania (Mr. Knox) who is responsible for this amendment, justified it by taking refuge behind the dead bodies of our soldiers. We not only have a dye monopoly, but we have a monopoly of death."

Other amendments rejected included one by Senator Jones of New Mexico for a duty of 5 cents a pound and 15 per cent ad valorem on hides which are now on the free list and are not covered by the emergency tariff provisions.

The bill, as it goes to conference, is exactly as reported from the Senate Finance Committee. It includes the emergency tariff provisions imposing duties on agricultural products, exactly as reported by Congress last session and vetoed by former President Wilson, anti-dumping provisions designed to provide for additional duties when foreign goods are brought in at prices below the home market value, a provision that ad valorem duties shall be assessed on the export value in the foreign market, whichever is higher, and the provision extending the embargo and license control of dye imports, which would lapse upon the adoption of the Knox peace resolution.

Protest against proposed duties on lumber have caused a modification of the rates by a subcommittee of the House Ways and Means Committee. All the details have not yet been definitely decided, but prospects now are that when the bill comes from the committee it will contain duties on spruce and fir, but none on pine and other kinds of ordinary lumber. A provision will be included also, which will enable spruce logs designed for use as pulpwood to come in free.

TELLS HOW SHIPS INJURE RAILROADS.

KRUTTSCHNITT WANTS ALL VESSELS USING PANAMA CANAL TO PAY TOLLS.

(Exclusive Dispatch.)

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Allocation of Shipping Board vessels in the service between Atlantic and Pacific ports via the Panama Canal, under contracts relieving the operators of obligations to show net return to pay overhead expenses, was attacked today before the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce by Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the Southern Pacific Railroad, in his second day of testifying as a witness for the railroads in the general railroad inquiry.

Stressing the fact that no private carriers could compete successfully with practically government subsidized carriers, Kruttschnitt further declared competitors for traffic with the railroads should be required to pay for the use of the Panama Canal and the highways. The transcontinental line, under existing conditions, are rapidly losing their traffic to the boat lines, he said.

Opposition to repeal of Panama Canal tolls on coastwise vessels also was voiced by Kruttschnitt.

The extent to which the rail lines are affected by Shipping Board activities, the witness said, might be estimated by the total movements through the canal for January and February of 1920 and 1921.

"The total tonnage sent west-bound for 1920 was 189,000 tons," he said; "for 1921, 225,000, an increase of 16,000 tons, or 7.5 per cent. In addition to the domestic traffic diverted to the ocean a large volume of export and import traffic, which was formerly handled through the Pacific ports by the transcontinental line, has been diverted to direct steamship lines operating through the canal between trans-Pacific countries and Atlantic and Gulf ports of the United States. Data for all lines are wanting, but Southern Pacific lines handled 191,000 tons of this traffic in January and February, 1920, and only 15,000 tons in the same months of 1921, a decline of 78 per cent."

WILL REOPEN NIPPON BANK, SACRAMENTO.

STATE BANK SUPERINTENDENT SAYS DEPOSITORS MUST BE PROTECTED.

(By A. P. ROBERT WIRE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 11.—The Nippon Bank of Sacramento, a Japanese-owned bank, with Japanese customers, which closed its doors March 17, without permission of the State Banking Department, will open May 18 under new ownership, it was announced today by Charles F. Stern, Superintendent of Banks.

It will have new management and new capital more than sufficient to offset all estimated losses and shortage of reserves, according to Stern, who gave his reasons for permitting the reopening of the bank as follows:

"The depositors in the State banks of California must sustain no losses regardless of their race or color. It is essential that the agricultural products in the Sacramento Valley and delta region, which are dependent on this bank for financing, shall be carried through the season."

"Large lines of credit have been extended by our valley merchants to Japanese agriculturists who look for their financing to the Nippon Bank; unless this financial support be continued these merchants must sustain large losses."

Stern announced that he believed the bank to be now solvent and capable of meeting its obligations and functioning safely and efficiently.

PAPERS STOLEN, SAYS "COUSIN" OF HARDING.

WOULD PROVE HE WAS PROMISED POST OF ASSISTANT SECRETARY TO PRESIDENT.

(By A. P. ROBERT WIRE.)

CHICAGO, May 11.—Everett Harding, whose dreams of political preferment and wealth were shattered when Federal officers arrested him, told Federal Judge Landis today that government officials recently entered his home and stole papers that would prove his innocence of charges of impersonating a Federal officer.

With stipulation that his testimony would be the same as he might give at the trial, N. P. Webster, disbursing clerk at the White House in Washington, was admitted to testify today. He said there never had been a person known as Everett Harding on the pay roll of the government.

CANADIAN WHEAT IS RUSHED TO STATES.

(By A. P. ROBERT WIRE.)

DULUTH, May 11.—Shipments of Canadian wheat are being rushed into the United States through Duluth and Kanier free of duty by shippers who anticipate the signing of the emergency tariff measure by President Harding, according to the local customs office. The measure would impose a customs duty of 35 cents a bushel on imported wheat.

Approximately 116,000 bushels of the grain have been shipped through the emergency tariff measure. Ordinary shipments vary from 500,000 to 1,000,000 bushels a season. Since Sept. 1, 1919, 433,327 bushels have been shipped in.

CHICAGO, May 11.—Everett Harding, whose dreams of political preferment and wealth were shattered when Federal officers arrested him, told Federal Judge Landis today that government officials recently entered his home and stole papers that would prove his innocence of charges of impersonating a Federal officer.

With stipulation that his testimony would be the same as he might give at the trial, N. P. Webster, disbursing clerk at the White House in Washington, was admitted to testify today. He said there never had been a person known as Everett Harding on the pay roll of the government.

CANADIAN WHEAT IS RUSHED TO STATES.

(By A. P. ROBERT WIRE.)

DULUTH, May 11.—Shipments of Canadian wheat are being rushed into the United States through Duluth and Kanier free of duty by shippers who anticipate the signing of the emergency tariff measure by President Harding, according to the local customs office. The measure would impose a customs duty of 35 cents a bushel on imported wheat.

Approximately 116,000 bushels of the grain have been shipped through the emergency tariff measure. Ordinary shipments vary from 500,000 to 1,000,000 bushels a season. Since Sept. 1, 1919, 433,327 bushels have been shipped in.

BENNY KAUFF ON TRIAL.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
NEW YORK, May 11.—Benny Kauff, suspended outside of the New York Giants, testifying today in his own defense, denied the charges of automobile theft on which he is being tried.

The stolen automobile was sold to Ignatz Engel, a stock broker, and later recovered by the police. Engel transferred Kauff's bill of sale to him when it was learned that it had been stolen.

Kauff declared that previous to the sale he had authorized Frank Hone, an employee in the garage owned by Kauff, to purchase a car from William D. Orst, an acquaintance, while he (Kauff) was absent on a baseball trip. He said when he returned he found in his garage an automobile he believed to have been purchased from D. Orst, and that he sold the car to Engel in that belief.

He admitted having learned later that the automobile sold was not the car he had ordered Hone to purchase, though the bill of sale in both cases was made out for the same automobile. He denied altering the bill of sale.

ROSS VISITS PORTLAND.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
PORTLAND (Or.) May 11.—Norman Ross, holder of the world's swimming records and championships, accompanied by his bride, arrived here today for a week's visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E.
Ross.

The young couple were married at Palo Alto last week.

Norman, who holds a responsible position with a Chicago wholesale plumbing supply house, has no swimming plans for the future, he said. He will wait until he returns to Chicago and see what kind of a team the Illinois Athletic Club has.
His principal interest now is in business, although he intends to compete when possible.

Ross and his bride expect to start on their return to Chicago the latter part of next week.

TEAM ROUNDING INTO CONDITION.

American Polo Four Make Hit
with Britishers.

English Will Have to Reshape
Their Line-up.

International Matches Only Five Weeks Off.

(BY CARL AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
LONDON, May 11.—With the international polo cup matches only five weeks off, the American team, here for the event, is rounding into championship form, but the English selection committee is finding itself in a quandary over the complicity of reshaping nearly the entire line-up owing to the indisposition of one player and the failure of others who have been regarded as certain starters to show their old-time skill.

Maj. Lockett, the English captain, has been obliged to leave his place
at No. 3 to replace Lord Wodehouse, a back, owing to the latter's enforced retirement due to severe illness. This leaves Lieut.-Col. H. A.
Tomkins at No. 1, the only originally chosen player remaining in his post. Neither Lord Dalmeny nor Capt. A. H. Williams, between whom the position of No. 2 was thought to lie, his given standard performance in practice, and the rivalry
now has extended to include Capt.
Turner and Maj. F. W. Barrett.

OUR LADS FAST.

One critic says the Americans are a fast, dashing team, not only sponsibly chosen, but with the players fitted to their mounts. Other writers label the "superior hitting force of the Americans" and their "dreadful accuracy."

The expert of the Times declines any superiority for the Americans in their mounts, saying they "are a several good looking lot, but show no decisive superiority over those of the English."

COURSE HARD TO SCORE ON.

San Gabriel Links Offer Difficulties to Golfers.

Invitation Tourney Set Down
for May 26-29.

L.A.A.C. Second Annual Matches Begin Today.

BY PAUL LOWRY.

Disciples of the niblick and the putter who play in the San Gabriel invitation golf tourney, May 26-29, are due for a horrible surprise when they acquaint at their quarrying round score.

This is the opinion of Andrew C.
Getty, a member of the greens committee, who says the San Gabriel course, since its reconstruction, is the hardest place to score on in the south. He cites as a reason for this the seven dog-leg holes, towering trees which bound the fairways, the San Gabriel Wash, which winds through the course, rolling greens where pitch shots are an absolute necessity, and pits, oh, numerous pits.

Topping off his argument, the Hon. Getty says the best amateur record for the course is a 74, made by C. E. Smoot, but he doesn't expect anyone to beat this in the qualifying round. He says 85's and 86's will be considered in the nature of good scores. Arthur Clarkson holds the professional record for the course, making a 71 last Sunday, which included seven birdies.
He had 85 going out and a 36 in.
Elaborate preparations are being made by the club to make its invitation meet one of the spiffiest on record this season. Nine men are being employed to keep the greens alone in shape. In point of condition, Brother Getty prophesies they will surpass those in use for any other invitation tourney this year. The greens committee is composed of Murray Voorberg, chairman, George Yerby, E. G. Graustier, F.
Lindsay and Andrew C. Getty. All the members back Getty's predictions to the last ditch.

Grand tee also will be in use for the invitation, making another pleasing innovation at San Gabriel.
Six and fifty hundred iron smacks have been expended for prizes that the committee says have not been excelled this year. Profiting by the amanda experience at San Gabriel will limit its flights to ten.

The qualifying round will be

Riverside Lads Victors in the Citrus League.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
RIVERSIDE, May 11.—Riverside
Poly High baseball team won over Pomona High in the deciding game of the citrus belt league series this afternoon. The championship went to Riverside by a score of 5 to 0.

Hundreds of rooters, attracted by the fact that each team had defeated Redlands, San Bernardino and Charter in title games, overran the Evans Park grandstand and bleachers and stratification seen at any sporting contest here in years. Following the game traffic was blocked for some time at the busy corners as the supporters of both schools serpentine through the hands through the principal streets.
The Rotary Club was conspicuous
in its support of the local team, which allowed the game to come to a close at the end of the first half of the last inning.

Dempsey Never Was in Better Shape than Now; to Do Light Work for Spell.

JACK SAYS HE FEELS TIP TOP.

Champion Boxer Pleased Over His Present Condition. Declares He Was Overtrained in Brennan Scrap.

To Indulge in Light Work in the Next Ten Days.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) May 11.—Any question as to whether Jack Dempsey is in the best of his physical trim or slowed up by his theatrical experience is dispelled by the champion himself. And further, the doubt is dispelled by the champion's impression in his training routine. The heavyweight champion laughed at the suggestion today.

"I'm in wonderful shape and never felt better," he asserted. "The Brennan fight," he added, "well, frankly, I was overtrained. Remember, the bout was postponed four times. I would have been fatter if I had fought it. I showed pretty good when everything was in good shape."

Dempsey declared he has never allowed himself to get out of condition since he won the championship from Willard at Toledo. During the five months he appeared in the movies, he worked daily in specially built gymnasium. Big Bill Tate and Terry Keller were out on the coast with him.

Dempsey's work for the next ten days will be necessarily light. He at the moment is working on his burning his tissues. The champion along on his road work alongside of Mayor Bader on horseback. The handbag around and did a little shadow boxing.

ATLANTIC CITY, May 11.—Jack Dempsey and sparring today with a rival at his camp here, where he is preparing for his bout with Georges Carpentier. He is due to start his fight on Saturday.

Dempsey's sparring today was at the camp early, riding, boxing, and sparring today with the course with the Mayor setting the pace.

BIGAMY CHARGE

of Suicide Mania.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
LONG BEACH, May 11.—Bigamy and grand larceny are the charges Roy E. Peasley, arrested in Yosemite Valley last night, will be brought back to this city to face.

Peasley, who is 35 years old, was until recently employed as a mechanic in the Belmont Garage, 2988
East Ocean Boulevard. The grand jurors' complaint was sworn to by C. L. Lancaster and Norman Kent, owners of the garage. His wife, Mrs. Irene Peasley, now staying at 304 Cerritos avenue, this city, preferred the bigamy charge.

When arrested in Yosemite last night, Peasley is alleged to have been driving a large touring car belonging to his wife.

Leaving his wife and 4-month-old son Harold destitute at their home in Balboa Beach, Peasley is alleged to have gone to Los Angeles last Thursday and married Agnes Murray, 25 years old, a Long Beach book-keeper. The ceremony, it is said, was performed by Rev. James Whitcomb Brougher, pastor of the Temple Baptist Church, following news of Peasley's arrest today, his wife here told the police she had just been informed recently her husband had a third wife and two children living in Greenville, Mich.

The children there, Mrs. Peasley said, are Wayne, 14, and Vanessa, 8. So far as she knows her husband never secured legal separation from the wife in Michigan, Mrs. Peasley told the police.

Irene Lowell, told the police she married Peasley, Sept. 2, 1918, in Lansing, Mich. At that time, she knew nothing of any other wife, she said. According to the grand jury charge against him, Peasley had been carrying on a systematic theft of first and tools from the Belmont Garage for several weeks.

DOG ENDS LIFE.

Toodles, a valuable Japanese poodle, whose life was crushed out by an automobile yesterday, has been committed suicide. In the belief of Officer Claude Reusch, owner of the dog, Toodles was killed in almost the exact spot where her three-week-old puppy met a similar fate Monday afternoon. Reusch declares the mother dog deliberately threw herself under the wheels of a passing machine.

"I've heard of dog suicides, but I never before took any stock in such stories," Reusch said. "However,

he has so long been in love with California that he is prejudiced, gave a brilliant talk before the women

HOLUBAR GOING ABROAD
WILL MAKE LARGE COSTUME
FEATURE IN ITALY.

By Grace Kingsley.

Having returned home and taken the photographs of the great furniture, pasted his notices of "Man Woman, Married" in his scrapbook, unlocked the phonograph and listened to the records while down there, these people prepared to go down to work, Allen Holubar and his wife Dorothy Phillips, are busy looking for a place to store all their production, an original, written by him self, the name of which he will announce soon.

According to the terms, Mr. Holubar will make two more pictures. Dorothy Phillips, after which he will make two special productions. He will store all records for production, an original, written by him self, the name of which he will announce soon.

He is a modern heart-interest story, he says. In the meantime he is looking about for suitable accommodations. It is likely that he will work either at Brunton or at Hollywood studio.

A trip to Italy for the purpose of making a picture, which will be the first of Mr. Holubar's most cherished plans, will be completed in a matter of a few days, and he will start on his trip next year. The story will be an adaptation of a famous old story, and he will be in Rome, Italy, before he goes away.

Mr. Holubar will have his own company and will make three pictures a year. She is one of the most popular actresses in the city and has been promised that she shall have only worth-while stories in the future.

"Man, Woman, Marriage" having been successful in the past, he is going to have a notable production at the Kinema within a short time. Mr. Holubar is a very popular actor in the western premiere.

Miss Phil Lips received an offer from one of the producers to return to the stage, but she has declined the offer. She will, fall, but, aside from the fact that she is a mother, she has a very good blood with her husband, she states, also, always modest as she is, she has no desire to appear on the stage after her long absence. The producer tried to persuade her to return to the stage.

Helen Carlyle Back.

Helen Carlyle, formerly the wife of Hampton Del Ruth, has returned to the screen after two and a half years' absence, during which time her husband, she says, objected to her appearing in pictures. He is now married to Alta Allen, who has likewise retired from the screen.

Miss Carlyle is to appear in William De Mille's current picture, entitled "The Stage Door."

George Stewart Flits.
George Stewart, brother of the star, Anita Stewart, left for New York yesterday, accompanied by his grandfather. It is not expected, however, that the elder Stewart when he reaches New York, will sit up as late of nights as his grandson. Because, don't forget there is Marylinn Miller!

Larry Semon Sportsman.
If the great rude American sport of baseball doesn't flourish in the center of art and culture known as Hollywood, it isn't going to be Larry Semon's fault.

League, and in order to stimulate these Hollywoodites to athletic endeavors, the league and the National Recreation Association have been sponsoring a series of high-brow, but nevertheless, fun-filled, sports. He is offering to put up, out of his own pocket, the cost of the trip for the first three included in the league will be taken care of or three times of freshmen, several of whom are professional dancers and a couple of free-for-all.

Mary Nash to Vacation.

Mary Nash, whose marvelous work in "This Thing Called Love" has made her a name to have a week's vacation here, following the completion of her work on the picture, is planning to spend the week of her vacation at the Hollywood Athletic Club, which she will be able to do so on Saturday night. That she is so far from home, she is not going to have a vacation unless the Nevada State Athletic Club is present there. It is understood that the principal titles of Nevada State Athletic Club are to be given to her company to come there and play.

She has a vacation, Miss Nash, and will visit Catalina, Mr. Love, Marjorie and the other members of the Hollywood Athletic Club and other points of interest.

who plays the same role in "The Name is Woman," is going with her to view the Catalina deep-sea garden and the other astounding landmarks.

Miss Nash lunched with William De Millie Tuesday, renewing an acquaintance of some eight years. She also played the part of the telephone girl in his play, "The Woman."

Ethel Grandin with Metro.

Ethel Grandin, one of the most popular young film stars of a few years ago, has been lured from her retirement to enact the leading feminine role in George D. Baker's first production, "The Hunch," in which Gareth Hughes is featured.

It has been more than three years since Miss Grandin has appeared in a picture. Her last picture, in which she appeared was "The Crimson Stain," a serial by Maurice Costello.

Coming and Going.

Elliott Dexter is expected home from New York in about a week. Wallace Reid will leave today for New York City to assist with the beautiful Elsie Ferguson in a screen adaptation of "Peter Ibbetson."

Theodore Roberts Better.

Theodore Roberts is reported as recovering from his recent illness. He hopes to be able to resume work within a few weeks.

WASHINGTON NEWS IN BRIEF.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
WASHINGTON, May 11.—Passage of the emergency tariff bill by the Senate by a vote of 81 to 21 demonstrated the power of the Republican organization to function effectively, Senator Moses being the only deserter from Republican ranks.

Notwithstanding Germany's acceptance of the Allied reparations demands, House leaders showed no signs of speeding up action of the Knex resolution ending the war with the Central Powers.

The Capper-Tincher bill to regulate grain exchanges will be passed by the House tomorrow unless some unexpected obstacle breaks up the present program.

John O'Hare, Army sergeant, who guarded Grover Cleveland Bergdoll on the gold-hunting expedition, related to the House investigating committee how he was hoodwinked into letting his prisoner escape.

Transcontinental railroads are rapidly losing coast-to-coast business as a result of Panama Canal competition, according to testimony by Julius Kruttschnitt, chairman of the Southern Pacific, before the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce.

Proposed duties on lumber have been modified by a subcommittee of the House Committee on Ways and Means as a result of protests against the rates. As a result, the bill probably will not include any duties on pine or on spruce logs which are used for pulp wood.

and of making for such preparedness as a signally Congress will permit.

The War Department apparently intends, through the newly created War Staff, to undo, if it can, some of the damage which was done by the suppression of the names of the ranking officers who did things today in this country for the preservation of the unit of spirit among the individual divisions which served either in this country or met the enemy somewhere in France. It was much easier to maintain a spirit of fighting fellowship and good comradeship in a regiment than it was in a division.

QUICK CHANGES MADE.
Division commanders were changed so frequently in a good many instances that the men overseas did not know twenty-four hours at a time the names of their commanding officers.

If there had been closer union between the division commanders and their men and if when the official reports of the glorious achievement of a division in the field had been coupled with the name of the man who directed it in battle, there today in this country would be major-generals in plenty to labor for the preservation in peace of the individual divisions in war.

Gen. Pershing has a hard task ahead of him, and he knows it. He has outlined our military policy as it should be, and in it has included in two lines the nature of his own ennobled endeavor, "the formation of a trained citizen reserve organized to meet the emergency of war."

Roamer Breaks World's Stock Chassis Speed Records

Traveling at the rate of 105.1 miles per hour over the beach at Daytona, Florida, a Roamer with Duesenberg motor smashed all existing stock chassis records on April 22.

Chassis used was a Roamer Standard Speedster model (Model F-85) which was officially checked by the technical committee of American Automobile Association.

The Roamer has long been rightfully termed "America's Smartest Car." After this sweeping victory at Daytona, Roamer unquestionably assumes pre-eminence as America's fastest car.

Roamer cars are built to maintain higher road speeds with safety than any other make. The long wheelbase and low body, the Roamer double cantilever spring suspension, the unusual strength in frame, axles and steering arms, together with extra large brake drums, gasoline tank and cooling system, are all factors contributing to the speed, stamina and comfortable touring qualities which appeal so greatly to the motorist.

Ask your dealer for a demonstration of a Roamer and see how it holds the road at high speed. Observe the absence of side sway, skidding and rebound. This same record-breaking chassis is also to be had in the Roamer 4-passenger sport model.

Richest County

in the United States in point of agricultural production! That position is given Los Angeles county in the recent federal census, which places the value of farm property in this county at $396,915,164. Compared with other states Los Angeles county is very young and only one-tenth of its total area has received agricultural improvement. Constructive banking has been an important factor in bringing about this phenomenal agricultural development. The Merchants National Bank of Los Angeles has steadfastly maintained a policy of employing its resources, now in excess of $33,000,000, toward the basic development of this city and its surrounding territory. This bank's record in the past is the best gauge of its confidence in the future.

RECLAMATION PLANS URGED.

Committee of Governors to Visit Harding.

Agreement of Western States is Sought.

Proposed Amendments to Smith Act Discussed.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) DENVER, May 11.—Western reclamation projects were considered today at a meeting of the Governors' committee of the Western States Reclamation Association in the office of Gov. Shoup. Eight Governors and two representatives of Governors were in attendance. "Future development of projects along the upper reaches of the Colorado River and other large streams must be protected by a compact between these Western States before the proposed projects along the lower part of the river should be allowed to go on," declared Delph E. Carpenter, Colorado River Commissioner.

Details of the conference, it was decided, are to be withheld from publication until after the meeting in Washington between the association committee and President Harding.

DISCUSS McNARY BILL.

One of the most important matters considered is how the $250,000,000 appropriation, provided for in the McNary bill, now pending in Congress, could best be expended. This measure plans for a revolving fund of $250,000,000 for the purchase of bonds of irrigation districts where the construction work would be superintended by the Federal government.

In the conference held Tuesday the Governors and the several commissioners expressed the unanimous desire that an interstate compact between Arizona, California, Colorado, Nevada, Utah, Wyoming and Washington, and between these States and the United States should be formulated as speedily as possible in order that future construction upon the streams might proceed without interruption.

Proposed amendments to the "Co-operative Reclamation Act," introduced in Congress by Representative Addison T. Smith of Idaho, were discussed at length at the conference. When the representatives of the Western States have agreed upon slight changes in the Smith bill they will urge its immediate passage by Congress as amended. The bill provides for the encouragement of the developing of the agricultural resources throughout the districts, through the co-operation of Federal and State authorities, giving preference in matters of employment and the establishment of rural homes to ex-service men and women.

In the party were Govs. Campbell, Arizona; Davis of Idaho, Boyle of Nevada, and others. The representatives of the Western States have agreed upon slight changes in the Smith bill they will urge its immediate passage by Congress as amended. The bill provides for the encouragement of the developing of the agricultural resources throughout the districts, through the co-operation of Federal and State authorities, giving preference in matters of employment and the establishment of rural homes to ex-service men and women.

SAYS MOONEY IS NOT GUILTY IN BOMB CASE.

AFFIDAVIT TELLS OF TWO MEN WHO PLACED EXPLOSIVE ON PREPAREDNESS DAY.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE) BELLINGHAM (Wash.) May 11.—An affidavit to the effect that Thomas J. Mooney was not responsible for the explosion which killed several persons in San Francisco during a preparedness day parade, July 21, 1916, was made here today by A. E. Lundin, 72 years old, by occupation a railroad contractor.

The affidavit was obtained by Don C. Parker, an attorney in the interests of the San Francisco Labor Council, and will be presented at trial for Mooney, which is set for May 23.

In his affidavit, says he and a friend were together in a saloon between 12 and 1 p.m. July 21, 1916. As they emerged they saw two men come from the direction of Market street and leave just outside the saloon, a large black suit case and then enter the saloon. A few minutes later an explosion occurred. When he saw a photograph of Mooney in a newspaper last fall, Lundin says he remarked to his wife that it was not a likeness of either of the men who had the suit case, both of whom he describes as being very dark and small, one being about five feet five inches in height and weighing 185 to 140 pounds, and the other about five feet nine inches tall.

Lundin says he did not know with whom to confer regarding the case until recently when he saw the name of Mooney's counsel in a newspaper. In his affidavit Lundin says he is a naturalized American citizen, born in Sweden, and that he was a resident of San Francisco in 1916.

FIND BOAT SINKING AT HOUSTON WHARF.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE) HOUSTON (Tex.) May 11.—The Southern Steamship Company's steamer Okmulgee, on which the firemen struck when mariners were called out several days ago, was discovered sinking at the municipal wharf of the Houston ship channel late last night.

When the ship's condition was discovered there were seven feet of water in the after hold. Her mid-ship compartments were also flooded, as was the fore hold. The water gained on the pumps and it was eleven feet deep in the after hold. At that point it was gotten under control and the pumps were steadily reducing it late tonight. How the ship sprung a leak is a mystery. It will be impossible to tell until all the water is pumped out of her holds. If her sea-cocks had been opened.

FAMINE FUND DRIVE CLOSES.

Still 5,000,000 Starving Chinese Unreached.

Southern California Gives Seventy Thousand.

Donations Will be Received Up to End of June.

After a ten weeks' campaign on behalf of the China famine fund, during which time contributions amounting to $70,595.40 were reported from all sources, A. C. Way of the First National Bank of Los Angeles, chairman of the Southern California committee, announced yesterday that the active campaign in this territory was closed.

"While $45,230 starving people in China are now receiving relief through international committees, there are still $400,000 people in the throes of starvation still unreached by relief from any source," Mr. Way stated yesterday. "The Southern California committee acknowledged the generosity of the people of our territory, but expressed the hope that even without the aid of an active campaign donations to this humanitarian work will be received until the next harvest—July 1."

"While it is regrettable that the active campaign must close with these millions unreached, it is some satisfaction to know that the money given by Southern Californians kept 2,352,180 Chinese from starving for one day, at least."

NINTH ON LIST.

Mr. Way also pointed out that, according to the latest statement of the New York headquarters of the American committee, California stands ninth on the list of States in the amount of donations. The total credited to California is $76,759.67.

The last report from the American committee shows that $1,699,000 has been sent to China to date. Many of the original 125 local Southern California committees have signed their willingness to serve until July 1. These will function with the New York headquarters, or with the Los Angeles headquarters, which latter will be maintained for the receipt and transmission of donations until the close of the fund. Donations offered to any church or bank, Mr. Way stated yesterday, will be accepted and will be promptly transmitted through either channel.

The summary of remittances for the ten weeks and the sources is as follows:

Through Southern California headquarters, Los Angeles—Churches, $255.15; Sunday-schools, $923.82; Los Angeles committee, through banks, $7384.25; Southern California local committees, $15,517.57; business organizations, $15,517.57; other organizations, $15,517.57. Total, $25,772.32.

FAST RANCH TO BE SOLD AT AUCTION.

War Tragedy, Sudden Death Place Nod Santa Barbara Property on Market.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

SANTA BARBARA, May 11.—War tragedy and sudden death have forced onto the market the best-known ranch property in Santa Barbara county, the Ellwood ranch, located twelve miles west of Santa Barbara, which is to be put up at auction on the 26th inst. The ranch comprises 2069 acres, all under intensive cultivation.

The property was originally owned by the late Ellwood Cooper, pioneer State Horticultural Commissioner, who introduced the sugarcane tree to California, installed the first olive mill in the State, and who also introduced the avocado and other popular tropical fruit trees.

Mr. Cooper some years ago sold the ranch to Maj. C. J. M. Critchton, an Englishman, who made his home in Pasadena, and Col. Francis H. Green, who came to live in Santa Barbara. When the World War broke out, Maj. Critchton was summoned to the colors as a major of the Gordon Highlanders. He fell in action Sept. 25, 1914, in France.

Col. Green remained here to manage the ranch and died suddenly a few months ago. Mrs. Critchton prefers to live in Paris and Mrs. Green does not care to shoulder the responsibilities of a ranch, so the famous property is to be sold at auction.

FILE COCHRAN WILL.

Income Provided for Widow and Residue is Left to Son.

By the terms of the will, filed yesterday for probate, of Dr. William G. Cochran, who died here on the 4th inst., an income of $500 a month is left to the widow, Mrs. Anna M. Cochran. The residue of the estate is bequeathed to a son, Dr. Guy H. Cochran. The will was filed by the Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank.

DIVORCE IS GRANTED.

Following a bitterly contested suit, John W. Weightman, claim adjuster for the Southern Pacific, was granted a divorce in the Superior Court yesterday from Harriet Weightman. Deceit on the part of the wife was charged. George M. Barker represented the plaintiff.

Afternoon Frocks

Garden-party Frocks are in a very pliable mood this summer! They go to afternoon functions and informal dinners and enjoy themselves equally at all these affairs! Lace, of course, is the raison d'être of many of the late models now being displayed at Robinson's.

An example of the effectiveness of the pure white frock is a dress of white Georgette. This straight-line garment has tiny floral motifs of crystal beads richly embroidering the frock to the edge of the lace overdrap. The flowers in this are outlined in the beads. Narrow grosgrain ribbon forms the sash.

The new Afternoon Frocks will be shown upon request.

Three-Piece Costumes

The one-piece frock, with the addition of a smart coat, by some special dispensation of arithmetic makes the three-piece costume!

And sometimes the coat may be a cape—and that makes the whimsicality of these modish costumes all the more ingratiating.

There are sports and dress models, attesting the mid-season proclivities of fashion in lines, fabric and ornamentation.

Hand-Made Blouses

135 Batiste Blouses, all hand-made, are exceptional values at $3.75. They have shawl collars, with square or V necks, and turn-back cuffs. The drawn-work in these models is accurately executed, in the patterns so favored for wear with the tailleur. Some of the collars have the popular block design.

The quality of the batiste and the beauty of the needlework would make these extra values at a much higher price. These are broken lines, slightly muscled.

The sizes range from 34 to 44, but there are not all patterns in all sizes.

For Thursday, 135 Hand-Made Blouses at $3.75.

"Eternal Fitness."

You See Yourself Yo

Don't, Says Another.

"eternal fitness of thing and always will be." It was stated at the closing confer of the eighteenth annual of the "Eternal Fitness" association, May 11, at the Grand Hotel yesterday afternoon.

These people, it was said, are not metaphysically exercised, and so doubt can have what they want in the world, are the ones who do.

Dr. George Edwin Burr, in his address on "Eternal Fitness," said that "eternity is the inalienable availability of every moment, and that it is the only thing that can be said to be eternal."

Later, Mr. Burr said, "The eternal is not a thing, it is a state of mind, and the several hundred thousands of people who are 'eternally fit' are the ones who are 'eternally fit'."

"Everything," declared the speaker, "is instantaneously available."

From Across The Ocean

Robinson's has offices and connections in London, Paris, and in Florence.

From twelve to fifteen European resident buyers and about an equal number of Los Angeles department managers, who visit Europe several times each year, keep the stock of Robinson's always filled with new importations.

The Import Window

Close to the Seventh Street entrance, a window has been reserved exclusively for goods which Robinson's receives from abroad.

The window is noteworthy for the arrangement of time imports and for its unusual lighting effects.

Among the recent arrivals have been:

Frocks and Gowns from Premier, Paul Poirer, Gertrude, Madeleine and Madeleine, Jeanne Lamin, Jean, Paquin and other well-known couturiers.

Negliges, Blouses and Silk Suspenders from France.

Infants' and Children's Dresses from England.

It will be interesting to watch this window for what is new in importations—lateness of style.

The Bridal Book

THE BRIDAL BOOK will be furnished free upon request in the Stationery Section.

In general, The Bridal Book gives not only the correct procedure as to the etiquette of the pre-nuptial affairs and the wedding itself, but is also an informative booklet as to the practical ways in which Robinson's is equipped to aid the bride in selecting clothes, linens and other necessities.

STATIONERY SECTION—FIRST FLOOR

From Across The Ocean

Robinson's has offices and connections in London, in Paris, and in Florence.

From twelve to fifteen European resident buyers and about an equal number of Los Angeles department managers, who visit Europe several times each year, keep the stocks of Robinson's always filled with new importations.

The Import Window

Close to the Seventh Street entrance, a window has been reserved exclusively for goods which Robinson's receives from abroad.

The window is noteworthy for the arrangement of these imports and for its unusual lighting effects.

Among the recent showings have been:

Frocks and Gowns from Premet, Paul Poiret, Gorgette, Madeleine and Madeleine, Jeanne Lanvin, Jenny Paquin and other well-known couturiers.

Negliges, Blouses and Silk Sweaters from France.

Infants' and Children's Dresses from England.

It will be interesting to watch this window for what is new in importations—and lateness of style.

 The Associated Press is a corporation organized for the purpose of gathering news for its members and for the public. It is a non-profit corporation and its assets are held in trust for the benefit of its members and the public.

REPRESENTATIONS.
 The inventor of the combination we know as the "Kamerad" is a young fellow who has been in the army for nearly fifty years old.

A FOREIGN POLICY.
 In foreign affairs our policy is to mix in all matters in which we feel an interest and avoid all entanglements and responsibilities for which we have no liking. This is a great system—it we can keep it up.

THREE OF A KIND.
 Steel-plate Foster is also said to be in Russia. He and Bill Hayward and Emma Goldman should be able to hold a reunion without missing much. But we can't say much for America's contribution to the stability of Russia.

PAPER TEETH.
 The Germans are making false teeth out of paper. If teeth were made from copies of certain newspapers we wot of they would be false, all right. Think of being bitten by teeth made from copies of the Volksblatt. A man with paper teeth should be confined to the Prussian Diet.

FAR APART.
 The program of the I.W.W. called for the seizure of all the industries of the country. But what do the I.W.W. want with industry? They wouldn't recognize it if they saw it. There is nothing in common between industry and the I.W.W. Industry suggests work and the I.W.W.'s won't work.

ON THE LINKS.
 Those who play the links have a disease of their own. It is called golf spine and it is a disease of the sixth and seventh joints of the spinal column, which is up somewhere near the shoulder blades. It furnishes certain pains of its own and makes the patient rather peevish and petulant. It has become more evident since the country went dry. Maybe that has something to do with it.

WHEN IS A BALL GAME?
 It takes eighteen men to make a ball game, according to a court decision. A complaint charged some youths with disturbing the peace by playing baseball in the street and in proximity to the home of the complainant. But there were only seven boys and the judge held that it could not be a baseball game and therefore was not a disturbance within the meaning of the declaration. The judge's name was Daniel, and that, "When a ball game is played, the diamond they are not playing ball; possibly they are playing horse."

WORK AND WOMEN.
 Under a new law the women of Massachusetts cannot be employed in any industry except possibly domestic service. The law has been made to apply to hotels, laundries, manicure parlors and moving pictures. A girl cannot be required to work more than forty-eight hours a week at a firm queen. Neither may she be asked to tell more than six average slouching lay in a beauty shop. Likewise, the bar Sunday should be her own. Gradually the Bay State is being made safe for the ladies—God bless 'em.

DOING THINGS.
 Some wonderful things are accomplished by the aid of human reclamation. By the aid of an especially constructed keyboard a blind and armless soldier has been taught to operate a typewriter. It would seem that there were other allies of effort in which the patient could be better directed, but the wish of the soldier had been in this channel and when its accomplishment seemed impossible science and patience combined to produce results. A legless dancing master or a deaf and dumb auctioneer will be next on the program. Men never know what they can do until nature assumes to prove that they cannot.

COMEDY TURNS TRAGEDY.
 The destruction by fire of Charlie Chaplin's ancient but beloved pants comes as near being a national tragedy as anything that has happened since William Jennings Bryan was defeated for the Presidency. Those voluminous trousers have been the joy of millions. The Kohlnoor or the Star of India was as nothing to the Chaplin pants. They might not have been a thing of beauty, but they at least promised to become a joy forever. And now they tell us they are no more. A careless moment with a cigarette or a smoking—flash, a blaze and nothing much left but ashes. That the trousers were occupied by the comedian at the time was unfortunate. There might have been greater tragedy. But our Prince Charlie was spared and restored. We fear it may not be the same with the Chaplin pants. Now in Grand Rapids they are making runs from ancient Persia may contrive something that will answer for screen purposes, but they will not be the real thing. The Chaplin pants were a decoration more distinguished than the Golden Fleece and were worthy of a place amid the archives of the nation. If the ashes are to be found they should be placed in a suitable urn or set out in loving ceremonial upon the waves of the blue Pacific. We are also curious to know if the camera caught the conflagration. Also was there any insurance?

GERMANY GIVES UP.
 Germany has completely accepted the Allied indemnity conditions and will carry them out without reserve and without delay. This authoritative statement, made yesterday by the British Premier in the House of Commons, closes the final chapter of the peace negotiations between the Allied and the Central Powers. Germany agrees to make good, as far as she is able, the material losses occasioned by her troops. She agrees, further, to the immediate trial of the officers and civilians indicted by an Allied commission for cruel and inhuman practices during the war.

Germany accepted all these conditions when she signed the peace treaty nearly two years ago; but the Reichstag has continuously refused to make the appropriations and enact the legislation necessary to carry them into effect. There is many a slip between the pen and the pocket in any transaction to which German diplomats are a party.

France will receive the major portion of the $32,000,000,000 reparations payments; and anyone who will consider the economic position in which France finds herself by reason of the war will admit that her share is not excessive. The French government expended $46,000,000,000 and the French people suffered a $10,000,000,000 property loss by reason of the German aggression. France will receive about $18,000,000,000 from Germany.

At the close of the Franco-Prussian War Bismarck declared that the French were the aggressors and compelled their government to surrender valuable French territory, to pay the entire cost of the war to Germany and expropriate damages besides. Under a similar settlement Germany would now be obliged to pay France about $60,000,000,000. The Times has already pointed out that the reparations demand imposed on Germany is not excessive. It figures a per capita tax for the annual payments of $12, about half the per capita which we of California pay annually for our State government. FRANCE'S SHARE OF THE ANNUAL GERMAN INDEMNITY WILL NOT BE SUFFICIENT TO PAY ONE-HALF THE INTEREST ON THE FRENCH WAR LOANS. THE PER CAPITA COST OF THE WAR TO THE FRENCH PEOPLE, AFTER RECEIVING THE INDEMNITY, IS GREATER THAN THAT OF THE GERMAN PEOPLE, INCLUDING THE INDEMNITY PAYMENT.

For the first time in a war to be assessed with a higher per capita tax than the loser is certainly not in the least an undue hardship on the country that started the fight and lost. There has been a great deal said and written in this country about the determination of France to ruin Germany economically and industrially through the demand of excessive reparations. A close inspection discloses the hidden basis of the German propaganda. After getting her indemnities France will still carry the highest per capita burden from the war of any of the countries engaged.

Let us consider for a moment what the terms of peace would have been if Germany had won. On this subject we have authoritative information. In an address delivered in the Reichstag on April 27 of the present year Rudolph Breitscheid said:

As a member of the Committee of Foreign Affairs I have seen Kaiser Wilhelm's peace terms. They were $30,000,000,000 from France and $10,000,000,000 from England; that is $10,000,000,000, eight times what Germany offers the Entente.

If Germany had won France would have been compelled to bear a total war cost of $80,000,000,000. Yet the total national wealth of France at the beginning of the war was but $70,000,000,000. You may think that Germany could not have forced payment. But that was all arranged for. France would have been compelled to pay her German indemnity in annual payments of $2,000,000,000 each; and she would have been compelled to repudiate her war debt to her people and her Allies until the last mark of the German demand was paid. French territory would have been occupied by German troops until the debt was discharged, just as it was in 1917.

Look on that picture for a moment and consider what the French demand on Germany when the shoe is on the other foot, are extortionate.

Fifty years have elapsed since Germany, flushed with her victory over a divided France, based her newly founded empire on the Bismarckian dictum that MIGHT MAKES RIGHT. Bismarck himself explained that policy to mean that when the interests of two peoples conflict that of the strongest should prevail. Another time he said, "National rights are anonymous with national interests." When someone spoke of the law of nations he responded in a verbal fiction. There is no right higher than that of the German nation. When treaties were discussed he said: "A treaty of peace should be observed only so long as the conditions under which it was agreed to remain unchanged." Again he said, "A national necessity constitutes a national right." Bismarck talks often of "rights," seldom of justice.

Such are the fundamentals of the policy of the German government for half a century. In the beginning they seemed to work to the interest of the German people. In a century that longed for peace a monarch who was always rattling his saber received many concessions from other governments willing to submit to a certain amount of injustice rather than plunge into war.

These compromises led the German people to think that they were dictated by a fear of German arms. They brought them easily to believe that they were a superior people and, as such, possessed national rights above those of their neighbors. "It is easy for a person or a nation to conclude that the thing is just that comes to the mind of the moment." "Red tape" was the only international policy Germany knew.

The assassination of the Austrian Crown Prince was the pretext that occasioned the World War; but the real cause of it was to be found in the insatiable arrogance and greed for world domination of the German Junkers. The time came when Germany stood practically against the world. It was a bold challenge; and the German people made a valiant effort to enforce their superior belief. It was not until they found themselves with less than 70,000,000 population fighting $60,000,000 Allies that they finally surrendered. They followed the Bismarckian trail, only to find that it stopped at the foot of an inaccessible cliff. Caught in a blind alley, they are now threading their painful way back to the place they occupied prior to 1870. Regardless of whether might does make right, temporarily and in specific instances, they have been forced to the conclusion that German might is only sufficient to make trouble for themselves. They have discovered that there is a superior might in the world to that of any single people and that there is a higher and more truthful philosophy than any taught in the German universities. Her superior-race theory lies in a bloody wind-swept sheet that envelopes $60,000,000 of her misguided sons. It is "Germany under Allies" now.

Germany's final acceptance of the Allied terms is the greatest advance toward restoring the peace of Europe that has been made since the signing of the armistices. It should be a powerful aid to the economic restoration which has already been too long delayed. If the German government and people keep in good faith the pledge which they have made the time is at hand when all those engaged in the war should bury their hatreds, even as they have buried their dead. Confession and reparation is what the Allied people demanded. They have now received both. A victor, when his terms are agreed to, can afford to be magnanimous.

NATIONAL HOSPITAL DAY.
 Today, the 101st anniversary of Florence Nightingale's birth, has been designated by President Harding as National Hospital Day. In a letter characteristic of his broad human sympathies our President has invited his fellow-citizens to join heartily in this special celebration. To understand why this day is selected as the one on which our thoughts should turn to the faltering ones among us, to the blind with the broken wing, it is germane to recall some events of the life of that noble woman, a title held not through royal favor, but conferred by a grateful humanity.

War departments consist chiefly of speckled fowls bound up in ravel of red tape. Wherefore the business end of every war has been a tangle of mismanagement. The simplest and most effective of the war officials made the inefficiency record, however, in the Crimean War of 1854. The crass stupidity exhibited during that war broke its own record in the way it mismanaged the care of the wounded soldiers. Thousands of British fighters were consigned to unnecessary graves as tribute to this horrible incapacity. In the first year of the war the number of men who died from wounds for lack of medical care reached the alarming figure of 58 per cent.

In the late World War no single soldier whose life by care, nursing and surgical skill it was possible to save was left to perish for want of organized relief. This result was due to a reform started in 1854 by one earnest Christian woman.

This woman was no dreamer, no sentimentalist. From early youth she had devoted her life to the science of practical nursing. So when the Crimean War broke out there was no one in England so well fitted to fight the chaotic conditions that soon developed in the care of the wounded. Yet no crusade in a worthy campaign was ever so subdued and discouraged. Women on the battlefield were an innovation that shocked the War Office. The military authorities were against her suggestions. Her own sex branded her as unwomanly—some applied an uglier epithet. Her action excited the jealousy of the medical profession.

But she persisted. Finally her indomitable pluck won from Sir Sidney Herbert of the War Department permission to organize a band of women nurses for work among the wounded at the front.

She assembled forty-one devoted women and took them to the Turkish barracks on the Bosphorus. On the day of her arrival at Scutari the wounded were being brought in by the hundreds from the bloody field of Inkerman. "Red tape" insisted that all army supplies should be inspected before being used by the troops. This would take three or four days. In the meantime gan-groes and canker would continue their deadly toll. Single-handed she defied the might of military precedent. With the butt end of a musket she smashed in the door of the room where the hospital supplies had been locked away and on her own authority commandeered the contents. Her forty-one nurses at once got busy among the wounded.

The results of her labors are told succinctly in the report of the army authorities. In a short time she reduced the death rate from wounds and sickness from 42 to 2 per cent. Such services finally compelled recognition, even from her most bitter antagonists. At the close of hostilities a dinner was given to the officers who had helped to achieve the victory. Someone suggested that a vote be taken as to whose name would be best remembered as the hero of the Crimean War. When the result was given out there was but one name written on every slip of paper.

And that name was FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE. But this was not all. The private soldiers who had learned to adore her under the sobriquet of "The Lady of the Lamp" took up a subscription for her and from their meager pitance of pay raised a sum of $250,000. Florence Nightingale turned over the whole amount to found a training school for nurses.

IN GLASS HOUSES.

BY EUGENE BROWN.

Seems funny that it should take a blue-eyed angel with hobbled hair to show a man how to wear his suspenders.

In another window in the next block a blonde fairy with party teeth is publicly demonstrating the use of the non-slipable tie-anchoring and the burglar-proof collar buttons.

Every swell emporium for men's wear has its window display of "a dream of fair women." But the fair women are showing the men how to do things. In one crystal enclosure Venus is illustrating how those snappy $15 suits for college guys can also be worn by tired business men. You don't know how she does it, but as she wriggles into a bright plaid coat she displays a neatly printed card on which this miracle is explained.

One darling with hair as red as the Chicago fire has a flock of men surrounding the window in which she proves that Palm Beach trousers may be worn so as to show the cuffs in Miami.

A man so helpless a thing that a movie queen has to climb into the window of the haberdashery and pose for hours to make it plain how a man's pajamas should be worn?

In one window a brunette Jane makes a complete change of masculine apparel every hour, but does it in such a way that the police cannot complain. In fact, nobody complains—not even the bureau of business executives who have their noses pressed against the glass from the outside. At the noon hour she is showing the passers-by how a glitzy should wear his correct raincoat. A little later she is demonstrating how Algonquin is all dolled up with stilet and gloves for an afternoon call.

Then she will put on a living sketch of how a bridegroom should dress and behave on his way to the sacrificial altar.

Possibly traffic in Broadway may be blocked for some minutes while beautiful Evelyn Howe shows the passing throng several different movements in the adjustment of those smart polka-dot ties for bankers, brokers and retired bartenders.

Whenever anybody is needed to show how to fix a noose around a man's neck they call in a girl who has had her training in the pictures or as chambermaid in the Mansion House at Kalamazoo.

Practically every pretentious shirt shop in town has a dream girl in the front window to illustrate the up-to-date in collar and neckties for college boys, preachers, craps shooters and other smart folk. She can wrap a collar around the neck and drape it with a swell four-in-hand in about half the time it takes a man to find the first button hole.

That is the funny part of it. She can show a man how to wear his suspenders, his shirts and his ties. When she comes to demonstrate this open-mouth athletic underwear for summer use we all ready to take notice. We will line up in front of the display window and give the subject matter our earnest and eager attention. Really, it does seem to need a clever little girl with a set of come-hither orbs to show a careless man how to wear his undershirt.

Glory be! she is doing it. A trip up Broadway or down Spring street is delightfully instructive for the male mind. It is also refreshing for the masculine eye. In one large clothing store the piece de resistance in the big window is a sweet-faced blonde fairy who has left the Elite restaurant in order to prove that the derby hat can come back. The rakish angle at which she wears it over her left eyebrow makes it quite convincing. We wouldn't wonder but what she would win.

In one popular haberdashery a winsome young thing with a peach Melba complexion is demonstrating a new-fangled, soft-leather belt for keeping the trousers up. Standing in front of the window is a group of prominent citizens engaged in silent prayer. If it should fail in its responsibilities there might be a display worth while—at least that is what these Napoleons think.

It all goes to prove that when it comes to demonstrating the girls can demonstrate a demonstration.

OUR FARTHEST NORTH.
 Many Americans have worried about a stubby little peninsula which extends from Canada into the Lake of the Woods north of the forty-ninth parallel which marks the established boundary between Canada and the United States from the Lake of the Woods to Puget Sound. This small area, chopped off from Canada and surrounded on three sides by the waters of the Lake of the Woods, belongs to the United States. Regarding Alaska, it is the northernmost land of the American republic.

No map shows an town or village in the remote and isolated region. It appears merely as a trackless forest wilderness. Now it is indicated that there is a village in this forgotten enclave, for a postoffice has been established at Penassee and a weekly mail service is maintained. During the winter the service will be by horse and sleigh across the ice of the lake. In the summer a motorboat will be used.

The chunk of land which Uncle Sam holds in defiance of all considerations of geographical propriety is commonly known as the "Northwest Angle." It is nearly square and measures about twelve miles each way. The population of Penassee is 150 and the population of the entire region is but little more. It is pleasing to know that the Penasseeans, most hyperborean of all non-Alaskan Americans, are at last officially and comfortably connected with the rest of the country. It becomes unnecessary to worry about their isolation. Instead, we may welcome them as brothers since a whimsical geographical quirk makes them Americans instead of Canadians.—[Cleveland Plain Dealer.]

TWO MINUTES OF OPTIMISM.

BY HERMAN J. STECH.

Do You Belong to the "Haves" or to the "Have-Nots"?

Henry L. Doherty, for the past few months the most-talked-of man in New York, never had a chance in life.

He was born fifty years ago in Columbus, O., at which time that now thriving little city was nothing more than a whistling point for hurrying locomotives.

His parents were plain folks who took whatever Providence sent and counted it gain. They shared the little they had with those who needed it more and they practiced extreme thrift, but not because it was a fad.

Young Henry was 12 years old when his father, always more vigorous than practical, died, whipped out and discouraged, leaving a widow and four children unprovided for.

The little lad sold newspapers, turned furrows, ran errands, delivered groceries, worked on an ice wagon, put in some time in a rolling mill, potted around a printing plant and finally wound up as handy man in the local gas works.

The average boy thinks it a hardship if he has to work more than eight hours a day and the child is father of the man. Henry was on the job eleven, twelve, fourteen hours out of the twenty-four and attracted immediate notice because he had no competition.

About this time it dawned upon Doherty that he was an awful ignorant fellow. He had always hated school to him had been a nightmare. He was quite a normal youngster. Also he hated poverty. And being sensible, it did not take him long to figure out that the two hated did not go together, that the man who knows least wants most, that training is preparation, knowledge is capital and learning is the first step to earning and independence.

Doherty began to study, to study and to save. He studied, saved, grew, became and climbed until today he is a whirlwind of time made over one hundred Doherty public utility undertakings flourishing throughout the United States, and his oil enterprises rivaling John D.'s companies in the production of petroleum.

Thrift is Mr. Doherty's hobby, patience, persistence, almost religious. He has experienced poverty, seen the depredations of thriftlessness, and he is his mortal enemy. He has spent thousands of dollars in his life in campaigns and he intends to spend thousands more to popularize prudent investing on the part of the wage-earner. This way, he says, lies the salvation of America and its people.

The average wealth of over half of our people is less than $50 apiece and a very great amount. The ordinary individual not only has nothing put away for his old age, but he has nothing put away for week after week. He constantly trades in the brink of a precipice, and it needs but a slight adverse breeze to send him reeling over.

We are glad going along on an extravagant plane of living. Little by little we even get to living above our incomes and so live below our ideals. You can take credit where the wages have been the highest and within a week of the day work actually stops and factories have shut down you have a great mass of people who are absolutely dependent on charity.

The explanation of course, is that thrift is not only not universal in this country, but it is really rare. You don't realize how rare it is. And if we are going to have such periods of depression there is only one way in which people can tide themselves over without ever suffering and hardship, and that is by saving at a time when they are earning.

Thrift is a panacea for more of our ills than any other one thing. If you can point to any problem that this country faces, I do not care what that problem is, you will figure out that if we get the majority of our people to save their money and invest it in the business corporations securities of our country that it would completely solve it or simplify it. If we went to work and put the effort into thrift campaigns that we put into charity campaigns, charity campaigns would be unnecessary.

And how much easier it would be to persuade people to put money into their own pockets than to get them to take it out of their pockets and put it into the pocket of some other fellow.

"If you want something to think about," said Mr. Doherty whimsically, "think what it would mean to this country to have its millions of wage-earners throughout the land save and regularly invest part of their wages in the business enterprises of which they are a part. Think what it would mean to industry, to the country and to the man himself. We immediately get a better grade of citizen, a more industrious worker, a man more reasonable in his social and political views, less ready to become excited by the revolutionary talk of malcontents who never having worked and saved industriously, have nothing to lose."

Do you expect to give charity—put it to take it? Do you belong to the "haves" or to the "have-nots"? Resolve right now to better yourself and become one of the "haves." Your money, carefully invested, will do an incalculable lot to make you happy, healthy, wealthy and wise. Get the Doherty idea—no day without a bit put by.

It's a good idea, good for you and yours, good for Uncle Sam, good for the chills and blasts of misfortune or sixty.

The People and Their Daily Troubles

DOROTHY DIX TALKS

Look Pleasant, Please.

BY DOROTHY DIX.

These few words are addressed to the old and to those who are growing old.

I begin by asking you a point-blank question: How do you make life for the members of your family?

Are your children and your grandchildren waiting with what patience they can summon for you to die, so that they may be free to do as they please about their own affairs?

Are you a burden and an affliction that it takes the courage of a martyr to bear?

Or are you gentle, and mellow, and tolerant, and wise, a benediction on the home wherein you dwell?

You are one or the other. In the many long hours in which you sit with folded hands, search your conduct and see to which class you belong.

And if you find that you belong to the class of old people who are pests who destroy all of the happiness of the young, reform yourself.

It is never too late to mend your ways.

Listen, Grandma and Grandpa. Do you ever think of the significance of this when you hear a woman say, "Oh yes, I am perfectly crazy to have a colonial porch built on the south side of the house, and some day I am going to do it."

Or perhaps you will hear a woman, who is herself middle-aged, say: "The dream of my life is to travel and to spend the winter in some big city, but I can never do it as long as mother lives. She won't hear of having a maid to wait on her, so I cannot leave her; but some time when I have the freedom to do as I like, I am going to see the world."

Or a man will say that he knows he is doing business in a slipshod, old-fashioned way, and that he can never make any changes as long as his father is alive, but as soon as his father passes away he will entirely reorganize his store, or factory.

You hear people make remarks such as these every day, grandpa and grandma, and stripped of the glittering generalities with which they have clothed the brutal facts, it simply means that all of these people are waiting for death to set them free of the tyrannical, and narrow-minded, and disagreeable old parents to whom they are bound.

It is a pretty dismal thought, isn't it, that those nearest and dearest to us are waiting for us to die in order to enjoy themselves, and that we are the shadow on their sunshine?

But it is our own fault if we have made life with us simply an endurance test, and that is what so many old people do by their whims and their crochets, and their hard little cut-and-dried notions about everything under the sun.

Perhaps, grandma, you are one of only old people in the world who have a right to be as disagreeable, and meddlesome, and faultfinding as they please, are those who are rich enough to live in their own houses, with nobody about them but those who are hired to stand them.

They once saw carved on a tombstone in a little country churchyard, this epitaph:

She was so pleasant to live with, I think that was ever paid a human being.

Let us so live, brothers and sisters, that that may be said of us, especially when we are old. Let us so live, that nobody will be waiting impatiently for us to die.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

Sunday and Sabbath.

LOS ANGELES, May 7.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Just a few lines in appreciation of that thought so beautifully expressed by your correspondent, Alice V. Morgan.

Sabbath observance is just as important as obedience to the sixth commandment, but the clergy have accepted the dictum of the Roman Catholic church and have attempted to substitute Sunday observance instead of the Sabbath of the Lord.

The failure of the church today is because the clergy preach what they do not believe and fail to preach what they know to be truth.

The Creator knew the spiritual and physical requirements of man, and so he ordained the Sabbath at the close of the week, and said the seventh day is the Sabbath, etc., and the seventh day is always the day before the first day.

I belong to no church or religious organization and I prefer to believe the Bible, rather than the traditions of men.

"We ought to obey God, rather than men."—Acts 5:29.

Know ye not, that to whom ye yield yourselves to obey, his servants ye are to whom ye obey?"—Romans 6:16.

Sunday is an institution of the church of Rome, do not accept my statement, ask any priest of that church.

WILLIAM DOUGLAS.

A Wetter One.

LOS ANGELES, May 7.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I think The Times makes a mistake when it says the Los Angeles electorate ignores the Volstead Act. Boyle Workman wasn't beaten because he was wet, rather because some one else was wetter.

The underground system is still a winner. The whispered word more potent than the fair and square declaration. His vote was remarkable. He had no organization and he is in a position to elect either candidate right now.

The Mayor and the faithful four got the best advertising of any candidates who ever ran for office. They got every ounce. They probably received more votes at the primary than they will receive at the election.

Mayor Boyle had more votes than he deserved. Had his picture taken hugging a street urinal and adopting a horse. If one read only the Hearst papers he or she would never know that anyone was on the ticket except the faithful four and the faithless five and Mayor Snyder. Can't see how they could afford to antagonize so many to boost five men.

GASOLINE ALLEY—SKEEZIX GETS THE ONCE OVER

A. Q. STOKES.

What a comment is this upon the ignoble selfishness of men who would, at this time, with the nation's garments rolled in blood, glorify one who not only willingly sacrificed untold millions upon the altar of his own self-aggrandizement, but with equal felicity had his own faithful followers shot on their sickbeds in the hospital at Tyre rather than to take the trouble of carrying them with him in his ruthless raids upon a peaceful people.

It is too late, Mr. Editor, to apotheosize in the same breath with which we (justly) execrate William of Hohenzollern, the "man of destiny," who, when reproved for his immorality, proudly exclaimed, "I am above morality." Let his own words and deeds condemn him to universal obloquy and as an enemy of mankind.

A. DRAHMS.

Save the Hill.

LOS ANGELES, May 7.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Surely it cannot be that Los Angeles will consent to the destruction of Normal Hill, that heaven-sent hill, placed where it is so exactly needed as a breathing spot and as a beauty spot.

"Beauty is its own excuse for being."—Climb those gently winding walks some morning and gaze at the lovely views spread before you in all directions: feel your spirits rise, for rise they surely will; care takes its flight; new strength comes to the tired mind and body. You exult; then some one who stands beside you on the velvet lawn under the kindly trees exclaims: "Come on, let's ruin this! Let's cut a swath right through it! It'll make it look like a railroad cut. Let's do a thorough job and ruin it, not only for ourselves but for all the generations yet to come to our new metropolis of the Pacific Coast!"

"New?" Yes we are most painfully new—and most painfully UN-metropolitan. We show it when we grant even one moment's consideration to a proposition which would never dare be made in any city that was accustomed to being a metropolis.

See what our big sisters, New York and Chicago, have done: parks that run for miles and miles through the hearts of both cities, using land of fabulous value. Nothing was too good for them; their parks are world famous. We cut a sorry figure by comparison. We show that we are only an amateur at being a metropolis.

To our Depositors:—

The confidence and patriotism with which the American people bought and paid for Liberty Bonds in the World War made possible the triumph of American valor upon the battlefields.

The large proportion of subscriptions entered by patrons of the Security Bank in each of the Liberty Bond drives is a matter of great pride to this institution. It placed upon us a heavy responsibility in the issuance of receipts and certificates, taking instalments as due, and the delivery of the bonds as paid for or issued. All this work, which required the time of a large force of skillful tellers and accountants, the bank was glad to give as one of its contributions toward the winning of the War.

NOVELTIES, IDEAS AND PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS

By Olive Gray.
Per E. B.

Up-to-Date:
A sports coat of quilted satin of an indescribable ivory-like tint giving off an opalescent sheen as the sun strikes the gleaming surface. This particular coat is designed for wear with a plaited skirt of Canton crepe in rust color.

To wear, if you affect the Carmenesque evening mode of short, full skirts extended at the hip line, a huge Spanish comb of carved tortoise shell, in your high coiffure. Your frock, it is almost unnecessary to add, will have a slip-off-the-shoulder bodice, short puffs for sleeves and a wide, kerchief-like fichu.

A knitted cape of bright-hued worsted with a collar of white angora for the girl of 10. The lines of the wrap are identical with those of grown-up sister's.

Now is the Time to Buy

The dressy afternoon gown of satin or crepe, usable for a thousand and one occasions. This sort of frock, as the thrifty shopper knows, is obtainable at the moment at a third or half its original pre-Easter price.

Cobwebby lingerie bearing, in the fine stitchery of its hand-run tucks and fairy-like embroidery, the hallmark of a French convent. Lingerie so exquisite that it might be coveted for her treasure chest by the most fastidious bride-elect.

The extra sports skirt and hat with which to make up a fresh "combination" for outing and street wear. Such bargains in both are being offered just now are responsible for an entirely new set of thrills feminine.

A New Use for an Old Name.
The mention of "Pinafore" to those of us who were children in the '90's, conjures other memories than those of Dear Little Buttercup, Dick Dead Eye, the sisters and the cousins and the aunts and the admiral of the Queen's Navy. To us the name of the prototype of modern light frocks, below of our theater-going fathers and mothers, lost its identity lyrically to link inseparably with the pinafore. Aprons, starched and smooth of surface, checked gingham for playtime and lace-edged white in the afternoon or when we were exhibited before callers. In those days, our pinafores covered our wool frocks. Now the melodious designation is made to apply to our collar lines. The newest neck, indorsed simultaneously by New York and Los Angeles, is the "pinafore." Whether in slip-on-gown, in blouse or in one-piece gown, you are all but beyond the moment, sartorially, if your collar turns away in a sharp, clean line.

Fashion's Forecast

No. 9,628—Lady's Blouse. Today's sketch shows a fascinating new blouse which is very easy to make as its sleeves are cut in kimono style.

The lady's blouse, No. 9,628, is cut in size 36 to 42 bust. Size 36 requires 1 1/4 yards 36-inch material.

The Middy Blouse Girl.

From "Pinafore" to middy blouse and accompanying serge skirt is but half a note in the same bar of the score. In this particular instance the notes were all grace notes and they ran a chiming, harmonious scale from blouse to blouse. For the white middie and pleated skirts of navy blue cloth a breezy group of high school girls it was a morning's fortune to meet the other morning.

A trim, uniform party it was, a delightful the eye as stimulating to the mental atmosphere; albeit productive of a twinge of regret at the mirrored reflection that one must pass, in years, beyond the middie and the serge-skirt period. Also a flashing fear that these dewy buds in the recklessnes of their prodigal youth, might understate the possibilities of this charming fashion of dress and not make the most of the latter while its term endures.

Her Commencement Oration.

The bubbling high schoolers were on a hunt, not a still one, either, but deliciously vocal to the entertained eavesdropper, and the game was commencement frocks. That they had stalked their prey to good game territory, was apparent from the preparations made to receive them in the department of that great and progressive store dedicated exclusively to the dress needs of the girl of student age.

How I envied them their effervescent reveling in the riot of crisp beauty spread out for their enthused inspection by saleswomen with a sixth sense of good taste and appropriateness. The half-formed inclination to forsake the traditional graduation gown of unbleached white for one more colorful, with which the girls had come to shop, crystallized into determination as a flock of pastel-toned organdies, scalloped and double-skirted, round-necked and flower-girdled, lighted in their midst.

I left them arranging, mentally, their rainbow procession across the stage to receive the coveted diploma, two of Nile green, following two of peach color, which, in turn, followed by one of orchid; the whole shading up to a climax of fervent blue.

One could shut one's eyes and drink in the rose-laden fragrance of the pastel-toned organdies; could light again the candles, long snuffed out, alas! upon the altar of one's commencement hopes.

Vogue Whispers That:

The Chinese influence is detected in blouses.

Motifs worked in ribbon trim the line costume. Many narrow skirts show a becoming hip yoke.

The newest sports hats are of a mushroom shape.

Slender bangle bracelets are a whim of fashion. Very narrow tucks are featured by frocks of voile.

A dress of gray chiffon is embroidered in navy blue.

Rose lace flounces trim a gown of rose crepe de chine.

Eight inches from the ground is the new skirt length.

Lace and mouline fichus are used on linerlike blouses.

Little turnover collars of fluted white organdie are worn.

Beaded shoulder straps are appearing for evening wear.

Though evening gowns are longer, they do not feature trains.

By Mrs. Okie.

One of the smartest functions of the month was the dancing party and buffet supper given by Mrs. J. B. Okie at her home at 470 South Orange Grove avenue, Pasadena.

By Mrs. McMorris.

Mrs. William H. Lyon of Dallas, Tex., one of the prominent young society matrons there, was well known as a magazine writer, was entertained yesterday at a charming luncheon and party given at the Hotel Leighton by Mrs. John E. McMorris, formerly of Texas.

The table was centered with a high low French basket filled with pink sweet peas arranged with other spring flowers in vivid shades. The Daily Fun Hour.

TOKIO THIRTY.

This is a lively game of Japanese origin. The game is found in using only one or two numbers at a time, and counting from one upwards to thirty, each player trying to evade the number "thirty." In the American form of Tokio Thirty, the players are ranged into two opposite sides. The player seated at the beginning of one row starts to count, and when he pauses the count is taken up by the player opposite.

No. 1 may begin with "one, two; No. 2 answer "three, four; No. 1 may say "five," and No. 2 may follow with one or two numbers, as he pleases. It is when the number twenty-five is reached that the play is keenest. Here, if No. 1 says "twenty-six only, No. 2 can reply "twenty-seven, twenty-eight," which leaves No. 1 twenty-nine and obliges No. 2 to utter the dreaded thirty.

The game must be played very

TWO SPRING DINNERS.

Rhubarb, asparagus, strawberries! Old Mother Nature is very good to us in the spring, and the following dinner menus will help us to enjoy her bounties:

Savory Veal and Asparagus.

Boiled Potatoes.

Strawberry Puffs.

Coffee.

Savory Veal and Asparagus. This is an economical dish as well as a delicious one. Cut 1 pound of veal cutlets into pieces 2 inches square and put it into 2 quarts of boiling water with a small cheesecloth bag containing 1 stalk of celery cut small, 1 bay leaf and a sprig of parsley. When the meat is fairly tender add salt to taste and 1/2 cup of raw asparagus cut into one-inch lengths. Let stand 10 minutes, then drain the liquor from it. Stand the cooked veal and asparagus aside for a while, and put the drained-off liquor back into the saucepan, adding 1/2 cup of milk, 2 tablespoons butter, 1-3 teaspoon nutmeg and salt and pepper to taste. Then thicken with 1 tablespoon of flour mixed to a paste with a little cold water, and after it has boiled up a moment, turn the cooked veal and asparagus back into it to reheat. Serve turned out onto a platter. (To make a one-dish dinner of this, put the mashed potato on the platter as a border.)

Strawberry Puffs. Stir 1-4 teaspoon baking powder into 1 cup flour and sift these into a bowl; work in, with the fingers, 1-3 cup lard and 1-4 cup butter. Add 3 tablespoons cold water and mix well; roll out a little thicker than pie crust and cut into circles five inches in diameter (this may be done with the top of an old coffee can). Place a heaped teaspoon of filling in the center of each round; sprinkle well with sugar and fold up the edges over the berries (moisten the edges) pinching them together.

SEEK TEN SHIPS TO TAKE FRUIT.

Citrus Growers' Exchange Has Negotiations Pending.

Cleveland Owners Consider Refitting of Vessels.

Another Large Cargo Leaves
Harbor for East Coast.

Following a series of conferences between officials of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange and the American Shipbuilding Company of Cleveland, O., relative to the acquisition of a fleet of ten freight vessels for the transportation of citrus fruits to eastern seaboard and other points, General Manager Powell of the exchange said last night that the matter is still in the negotiation stage. No definite proposition has been made to the associated growers, according to Mr. Powell.

The Cleveland shipbuilders have ten ships of 3500 to 4000 tons capacity, which they are willing to equip with refrigeration and ventilation facilities if the citrus growers of Southern California will take them over. The sum involved, it is reported, would be about $10,000,000. The exchange is now shipping large quantities of oranges and lemons to the Atlantic seaboard and across the Atlantic in big freighters. One boat was loaded at Los Angeles Harbor yesterday.

The tone of conferences held during the past two days indicates that the exchange does not contemplate buying boats outright at this time. It is thought that the Cleveland company would assign its fleet of freighters to "bank" service if sufficient tonnage to keep the boats busy were guaranteed. Further conferences on the matter may be held in the near future, it is stated.

MALICE IS CHARGED.

Damages Demanded by Fair Arrested in False Pretense Case.

Suits for purported malicious prosecution were filed yesterday by Alfred Linares and Earl H. Jones against Mrs. Margaret Spohn Huggie, each demanding $10,000 damages. It is asserted that the plaintiffs were arrested at the instance of Mrs. Huggie, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. The complaint states that the cases were subsequently dismissed when brought before Justice Brayton of Long Beach.

MOSQUITO WAR IN NEW HANDS.

Health Commissioner Powers
Not Admiral of Fleet at Harbor Any More.

City Health Commissioner Powers is no longer admiral of the municipal mosquito fleet. The command of the fleet was taken yesterday from the health department and transferred to the Board of Harbor Commissioners. At yesterday's session the Finance Committee of the City Council refused Dr. Powers' request for a new power launch with which to wage war on the mosquito. The Harbor Commission reported to the Finance Committee that it recently turned over a high-powered launch to the health department and as far as the commission knows or can find out the whereabouts of the launch is unknown. Dr. Powers was not at the meeting yesterday to explain his side of the matter.

But the commission has taken the mosquito war out of Dr. Powers' hands.

sailed from Valparaiso on April 19 for Los Angeles Harbor.

The Shipping Board freighter Jalapa, which has a cargo of grain for export, arrived yesterday morning from Columbia River for lumber, sailing last night.

The Jalapa will leave for Los Angeles at 10 a.m. today. The landing was scheduled to sail for the return to Honolulu, carrying a full cargo of oil, but will probably be held up by the strike.

Fourty-four crates of oranges and lemons were loaded onto the freighter West, which is bound for Philadelphia.

An unusual sight at the harbor yesterday was that of three ships on dry dock at one time at the pier of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Drydock Company.

The Jalapa is operated by the North Atlantic & Western Steamship Company, and is bound for Philadelphia.

After spending two days at sea in the Shipping Board freighter Jalapa, was turned over to the civil authorities here by Capt. Christensen yesterday afternoon.

Maler was said to have refused to obey orders and was held for a violation of the maritime laws. The trouble centered about the hiring of a nonunion oiler, the only nonunion man in the crew. Maler refused to relieve the other oiler for his meals and was placed in irons when he maintained this attitude. The Jalapa is bound from Portland for Danzig and called in here for bunker oil.
